

{ UCLA LIBRARY ASSOCIATES }

Discovery Workshops

This series invites guests to discover fascinating and perhaps little-known aspects of the Library, including exceptional collections and useful services.

Hear it Here Southern California Oral History on the Web

Monday, October 20
2 to 4 p.m.

Charles E. Young Research Library
Presentation Room

It's one thing to read a history book; it's another to hear that history directly from those who lived it.

The UCLA Library has long preserved history in written, manuscript, and other print forms, but it has now launched a new project that will enable everyone to listen to recorded history online.

Come experience the remarkable stories gathered by the UCLA Library Center for Oral History Research. Hear about its online oral histories, a collection focused on L.A. social movements, and learn about Hypermedia L.A. and the role oral histories play in the future of electronic scholarship.

Featuring

Marta Brunner, Librarian for English and American Literature and Comparative Literature, U.S. and British History, and the History of Science, Charles E. Young Research Library

Space is limited; RSVP by Monday, October 13, to 310. 206.8526 or <rsvp@library.ucla.edu>.

Free admission

Open to the general public; reservation priority given to Library Associates members

Image: Grocery clerks and their families picketing during 1940 Retail Food Clerks Union strike; 1940; Los Angeles Daily News; Los Angeles Times Photographic Archive; Charles E. Young Research Library Department of Special Collections

Parking is available in Structure Five for $9.

Enter campus at Royce Drive off Sunset Boulevard. Proceed straight ahead to Structure Five. Tell the attendant that you are attending the Library's oral history workshop.

Exit east from the parking structure, then walk northeast to reach the Research Library.

PRESERVING KNOWLEDGE . . .

PROVIDING ACCESS TO

THE UNIVERSE OF IDEAS

UCLA Library