

The Louise M. Darling Biomedical Library web site has migrated to a new design to make our resources and services easier to locate. Your favorite links are still here, and our URL remains <http://www.library.ucla.edu/biomed>. Contact the Biomedical Library Reference Desk (310.825.4904; biomed-ref@library.ucla.edu) if you have questions or need help with the new site.

The Library Catalog is under "Search and Find"

"QuickLinks"-- links to frequently-used databases and e-books--are located in "Key Resources"

The screenshot shows the top navigation bar with 'Search and Find', 'Services', 'Libraries and Collections', 'About', and 'News, Events, Exhibits'. Below this is a secondary navigation bar with 'Key Resources', 'Research Help', and 'Services'. The main content area includes contact information for the Louise M. Darling Biomedical Library, a list of 'Key Resources' (PubMed at UCLA, News and Events, Technology and Learning Center, History and Special Collections, Regional Medical Library, About the Biomedical Library), a 'What's New' section with an announcement about 'Current Protocols in Stem Cell Biology', and a search box with radio buttons for 'Electronic journals', 'Electronic books', 'Article databases', and 'All electronic materials'.

Locate Subject Guides and key textbooks by clicking "Research Help"

Access to PubMed @UCLA

Send purchase requests, set up individual research appointments, and request interlibrary loans from the "Services" link

This screenshot shows the search interface and content area. It includes a search box with a 'Quick Link to Selected Resources' dropdown, a search filter menu with radio buttons for 'Electronic journals', 'Electronic books', 'Article databases', and 'All electronic materials', and a search terms input field. Below the search area, there are sections for 'What's New' (with links to 'Summer 2007 Biomed Update' and 'Trial Access to Current Protocols in Stem Cell Biology') and 'The Europa World of Learning'.
